1988 National Gun Dog Champion

By Clarence Helzerman

The running of the National Gun Dog Championship was again hosted by the three Michigan Brittany clubs; the 1988 running started April 4, 1988 at the Ionia State Park in Ionia, MI. There were 56 entries for the fourth running of the trial, including three of the 1987 winners who returned to vie for the title. Handlers were present from every part of the country; pro handlers present were Frieda St. John, Chad Holman, Bill Hancock, Lyle Johnson, Toby Tobiassen and Bob Burchett. Judge Bill Klenner returned to give his expert opinion, along with his wife Cindy as marshal and Delmar Smith as the second judge.

Mike Jessen of California guided his 1987 National Gun Dog Champion, Jessen's Lit'l Dab of Dude, to his second National Championship as the 1988 winner. Dude again showed style and intensity on point along with his hunting ability, to beat the other 55 competitors.

The other winners were second place Burchett's Bouncin Belle, also no stranger to the winner's circle. Belle placed in the 1986 National Gun Dog Championship, handled by owner Bob Burchett of Iowa each time. Third went to Sunny Boys Tuff Cookie owner-handled by Ken Rosick from Michigan, and fourth went to Rick's Jake of Grit, handled by Chad Holman. It is interesting to note that all dogs that placed at this event are Field and Amateur Field Champions.

After watching most of the braces, there were many great performances, but there is only room for four dogs in the winner's circle. Some outstanding dogs were picked up during the running because of a failure to back or a brace mate getting them in trouble. The placing dogs showed that they are real class gun dogs.

The weather did not always cooperate but hospitality prevailed with the entertainment including a chicken dinner, a banquet, a steak dinner, stories by Delmar Smith and happy hour after the day's running.

THE RUNNING

With an overcast sky and a temperature of 45 degrees, the first brace was cast away at 8:20 a.m. Monday.

CINNABAR'S ROC'S ANN (Alff) - THE BANDIT (St. John): This brace ended on the first treeline of the second course at 2.

BRETON DE FAR (Knox) - LOST LAKE SOLO (Wichita): Solo went on point at 4 with Breton stealing point. Solo jumped her next bird at the woods corner.

KAY-CEE'S COPPER ARROW (Unger) - RENEGADE'S REVENGE (Burchett): Arrow had three nice finds during the first 10 minutes, then bumped a bird at 13 in the woods. Revenge had one back, one find and a quick lunch at 14.

CHEYENNE PEPPER III (Hamby) - FAR OUT SUGAR POPPY (Holman): This brace started after coffee break. Pepper pointed at 5, chasing at the flush. Poppy had three finds, one non-productive, then at 40 chased a second bird at the flush.

HIGH HOPES JEWEL DE ROC (Meany) - ROBERTO'S RAMBO GRAND (Reeves): Jewel took a bird at 8, and Rambo did the same at 15.

HOMINY GRITS II (Wichita) - LUKE'S MUSTARD SEED (Hancock): Grits had a quail at 4, then Luke went on point at 5 with Grits coming around for a back. Then Luke took the bird out while Grits watched. Grits had a second nice find at 12. After crossing the bridge, he became lost in the swamp, coming back later with a severely cut ear. Handler decided to pick up. This was a real shame because Grits was doing a good job.

MARJO'S SPICE OF CEDARWOOD (Tobiassen) - COUNT FLASH OF KAYMORE (David): Flash started the action with his bracemate backing on the first treeline at 3. Then both dogs pointed a minute later. Flash had a third find with Spice backing. Spice disappeared in the woods, but came out to point on the far treeline. Flash came around the treeline from the other direction and was found standing on the wrong side of Spice, still on point. Spice was then picked up for creeping on point.

UNIQUE (Johnson) - SAINT'S BOWMAN WOODS LONI (St. John): Unique started the action at 5 with a find. She located a pheasant in the middle of the field, then had a third find with Loni backing. On the second half of the course, Loni pointed and Unique failed to stop on a bird.

At the end of Monday's running, only two dogs made it around course #1 and none completed course #2. Tuesday morning the weather was bright and sunny, and the first brace was away at 8:15.

SHAHER'S ANTE OF BLUE RIDGE (Shafer) - JEHOVAH JIRAH JUMPING JINNY (Colglazier): Jinny scored first and ended up with four finds and two non-productives before being picked up. Annie had two finds and one non-productive before the brace was over at 8:40.

SHAMROCK AERO OF CINNABAR (Haines) - MARKAYS BLAZEN GUN (Cook): Aero had a find at 5, after crossing the bridge a find at 40, and a chase at 42. Blaze disappeared on deer 20 minutes out.

PACOLET'S RUSTIC PRINCE (Ankrom) - VANPO'S GYPSY BELLE (Hancock): Prince was scratched and Belle chased on course 2 at 5.

SUNSHINES BOSS HOG (Stacey) - DEL ORO'S MINI TIMBER (Tate): The bird action took a half hour to start, until across the bridge on course #1 the dogs shared a divided find. At 40, Boss Hog had a woodcock with Mini Timber backing. At 49 and 54, Boss had quail finds with his bracemate backing each time. Mini Timber ended the hour with a non-productive.

ROYAL BRITT STARBUCK OF AUTEN (Johnson) - MEADOWBROOKS LOUIE (House): Starbuck had the first find at 10, a non-productive at 16, a back at 30 and another find at 42. Louie had a find at 13, a back on Starbuck's non-productive, finds at 21 and 22, a woodcock at 26, a quail at 30 and a back on Starbuck's last bird. Louie did a great job on his birds but seemed hard to handle after his last find.

BRITT (Burchett) - HYBRITTIN'S DOWNTOWN BROWN (Tobiassen): Brown found a quail at 5 with Britt failing to back. Brown continued to run a nice, forward gun dog race with finds at 10, 17 and 20. He carded a stop to flush at 25 and 35, a quail at 40, a non-productive at 45, and another stop to flush at 48. He finished the hour with quail at 50 and a non-productive at 57.

ALLMAC'S DE-NA-DOLL (McMurray) - RICKS JAKE OF GRIT (Holman): Doll decided to come into heat and was moved down, so Jake went alone covering the course with a good forward run. He pointed a quail at 33 and swapped ends on a pheasant at 50. Jake seemed to range further as time went on and the course with a good forward run. He pointed a quail at 33 and swapped ends on a pheasant at 50. Jake seemed to range further as time went on and the temperature reached a record 81 degrees for that date. The performance earned him 4th place.

HILO GEORGE (Hancock) - GRODA'S LACEY OF AUTEN (Grissom): At 18 George had a stop to flush with Lacey chasing the bird. George continued with two more stops to flush and was picked up early.

At Tuesday's end, things were looking up with several good performances by dogs. Wednesday morning the weather was rainy and windy.

ROSELEE'S SECOND CHANCE (Leuch) - AUTEN'S KEYSTONE COP (Johnson): Both dogs chased at 5.

RALEE'S REBEL RAISING NICKI (Howard) - K-DEL'S LADY BONITA LE BRITT (DeLong): Nicki had a find at 3 with Bonnie backing, then at 5 Bonnie had a find that Nicki failed to back. Bonnie had finds at 7, 20, 35, 40, 42, 50 and 53, going along at a nice steady pace.

SWEET SEASON'S KEEP'N TIME (Kuszak) - BURCHETT'S BOUNCIN BELLE (Burchett): Belle had her first find at 2 on the hill ahead of her bracemate, Keeper, who was already on point. As Bob flushed the bird it flew to land in front of Keeper. Tom finishing flushing and moved on with Keeper recording 6 more finds and a non-productive. Belle had 6 more finds, a stop to flush, one back, nice range and pattern. Belle seemed to have the best performance to date, and ended up with second place.

JESSEN'S LIT'L DAB OF DUDE

RALEE'S TRAVELING TRAVIS (Hancock) - JESSEN'S LIT'L DAB OF DUDE (Jessen): Travis took a bird out at 5. Dude pointed at 3, 7 and 10 on this side of the bridge on course one. Across the bridge on the fence line, Dude pinned another quail at 20 with the rain starting to pour down very hard. At 25 he pointed along the woods line, then added a non-productive at 29 and quail at 32, 36, 39. With time running out, Mike emptied his gun on a pheasant. Dude's style of hunting and intensity on point proved to be unbeatable.

BANDIT SAM (St. John) - JEN MARS SUPERSTAR (Leuch): Sam was picked up at 3 with Star backing. Star had six finds.

HYBRITTIN'S LITTLE RICK (Tobiassen) - BLAZE'S COOKIE BANDIT (Rosick): Rick had a quail at 30 and a back at 35. Bandit carded a non-productive at 13, quail at 17, 30 and 35, and a bump at 40.

Wednesday, the running finished early because of the hard rain. The first and second place winners ran in some of the worst conditions of both that day and the four days of the championship. The rain stopped over night and Thursday the sun was starting to come out. The courses were muddy with some standing water.

KIDAGO SKIPALONG CACTUS JACK (Blanchette) - OAK HILLS TITAN TIKE LEWIE (Lewandowski): Lewie failed to back at 5 on Jack's quail find. Jack handled quail at 25 and earned a non-productive at 30. He located more quail at 45, and at 47 after a relocation.

HI SPIRIT BREEZE (Tooker) - ROSIE'S PEPPERMINT PATTY (Hall): Breeze pointed a quail at 5 while Patty chased another one. Then Breeze released himself from a stop to flush in the middle of the field.

ZIP'S BANDEE ZAP (Walz) - HI SPIRIT CIBEROUS (McGary): On the first treeline at 2, Zap had a chukar. She located a quail at 6, had a non-productive on the same bird at 9, then chased at 20. Ciberous had quail at 5, backed Zap at 10, and then helped Zap chase.

SUNNY BOY'S TUFF COOKIE (Rosick) - ACE DE BLANC OF HI POINT (Blanchette): The bird work started at 8 when Ken called point on the last treeline before the bridge. Ace came around to back Cookie, and after a relocation Ken produced the bird. At 11, Cookie pointed the same bird again with all in order. Ace had a stop to flush on a woodcock at 30. Cookie recorded a non-productive at 31, a quail at 48 with Ace backing, and a relocation to find another quail at 55. Ace finished the hour with a quail find.

BAY ARBOR BABE (Holman): Running as a bye dog, Babe had a non-productive at 5 on the second treeline, a quail at 10 near the woods and another quail at 20. Babe continued the hour hunting, but to no avail.

WILD WIND JJ'S KATIE (Helzerman) - ALLMAC'S DE-NA-DOLL (McMurray): These females in season comprised the last brace of the championship. Doll had quail at 8 before the bridge crossing, then on the other side of the bridge with Katie backing at 20. On the second treeline past the creek, both dogs were found standing with Katie backing Doll. John produced a quail at 40. Katie pointed a quail at 47 to finish the bird work for the trial.

After the last brace, four dogs were called back by the judges. A large gallery gathered to watch the first brace of Sunny Boys Tuff Cookie and Burchett's Bouncin Belle. The dogs were released and ordered up by the judges in 30 seconds. The second brace of callbacks, Jessen's Lit'l Dab of Dude and Rick's Jake of Grit, lasted five minutes, and now the running of the 1988 Gun Dog Championship was officially over.

It's "Magic" Again At Quail Classic

By Ella Conable

The Moment was Magic for Don and Laure Young as The Magic Moment was declared the winner of the 1988 Quail Classic. "Jenny," successfully defending her 1987 crown, was handled by Jim Holman. Her brace mate, Batch's Bo-Nine Rockee, was a close second for his handler Kraig Staton. Luke's Mustard Seed, handled by Bill Hancock, and Far Out Scarlett Angelina, handled by Chad Holman, rounded out the placements.

Jenny and Rockee ran in the second brace Wednesday with breakaway on the gravel road at the north end. Scouts were early and often as first one, then the other, would disappear into the cover. As the course turned east to make the big loop into the T-Road crossing, Jenny was among the missing with her scout out. Rockee managed the loop and after crossing the T-Road the party was all back together - but only briefly. At about 40, Rockee made a big swing along a woods line bordering a large plowed field and he was seen no more until found on point by his scout, after time, near the old Snead place.

Jenny, meantime, had misplaced both her handler and her scout as she showed up well out in front with the forward party. A temporary replacement was appointed by the judge and shortly her handler arrived to take over again. As part of the party that had stayed back with Rockee came to the front at 50, Jenny was spied deep in the woods to the left near the edge of the lake, pointing stylishly. At the cry of "Point!" judge, handler and gallery did a 180 and rode to the find. She had a nice spread-out covey well located. Taken on, she continued to take in large amounts of territory and as time expired, she was on yet another big cast in the woods northeast of the barn, from which she was gathered up and returned well within the "grace" period. It was while waiting for Jenny's return that the faint call of "Point" was again heard, and the judges and part of the party turned back to the north where they were led to Rockee, buried deep in cover pointing a large covey.

Classic, and as was the case for so many field trial venues this fall, the cover was heavy and there were copious quantities of standing corn and fields of milo in varying stages of ripeness. Judges for the event were the affable Rick Meyer of Chesterfield, MO and Rob Rohner, recently transplanted New Englander, who now calls Plattsburg, MO home. They gave the dogs their full attention and afforded both handlers and scouts adequate time to show their charges in the heavy cover. Bob Ice, Ray Trimble and Jim Chase handled the marshalling duties and Gail Neal rarely failed to have the dog wagon in the right place at the right time.

Ed and Judy Graves, Sally and H.R. Gentsch, Mary Jo Trimble and Bobbi Wade filled in where needed. Some of the others in attendance were Earl Colglazier, Brad Woodruff, Bob Weisz, Mike Boydston, Bill Gowin, Charlie Johnson, Don and Laure' Young and, contrary to Don's promise, Harold Wade. Monday evening there was a tail-gate hospitality hour in the parking lot and Tuesday evening a party in the club house featuring BBQ pork (left from Saturday night's pig roast), with salads and dessert.

THE RUNNING

It was sunny with a breeze out of the southwest and temperature near 50 as the first brace broke away from behind the barn at 7:37.

KOR-UPT SOUND OFF (Schreiber) - BAY ARBOR JAY FLASH (C. Holman): A good-sized gallery of perhaps 30-35 was on hand as Ray Trimble introduced judges and welcomed one and all to the trial. Jay used the tree lines nicely although never at extreme range. At 23 he had a stop to flush on a covey in a woods line on the east side of the blacktop road. At 58 he suffered a non-productive in the deep woods east of the single outhouse. Tweedle quickly showed his immaturity in the cut off casts and lack of pattern in the big fields; he was returned to the wagon at 15.

JEHOVAH JIRAH JUMPING JINNY (Colglazier) - BLAZE XXIII (C. Holman): Jenny ran an excellent race, wide and generally forward. Where the cover allowed she showed well but all her efforts were for naught as she went birdless. Blaze started well, but after crossing the gravel road over the barricade he had a non-productive. As Chad was attempting to flush he released himself and Chad elected to leash him.

DOMINATOR OF CONNIE (Lipsev) - AMIGO OF AZTLAN (J. Holman): After a short coffee break this brace was away down the west side of the spray pond. Amigo lacked the fire that he normally shows and at about 45, after crossing the gravel turnaround road, he slowed appreciably, a combination of the rising temperatures and the heavy cover taking its toll. At 50, at the west end of the treeline where Jay had had birds earlier, he was found pointing. Flushing efforts were in vain and a rabbit was suspected. Jed's race was inconsistent from the outset and he was birdless.

RIMARDA'S DRUM ROLL (C. Holman) - SIR DUKE MUSTACHIO (R. Staton): Away towards the powerline from the secondary blacktop, this pair used the course well as both ran wide ranging patterns. Scouts and handlers were kept busy. During the loop leading to the T-Road corner, Drum turned the wrong way but was brought to the front near the crossing. Mike made the loop, showing occasionally in the heavy cover. At 40, in the long treeline leading to the blacktop crossing, Mike pointed into the trees and Rosco flushed a small covey. Drum came to the front through the milo field and was taken across the road and down the east side of the spray pond. Crossing the road leading to the dump station, Drum disappeared into the woods on the left with Mike coming on and crossing back to the east side of the main road. At 55 point was called, and a long search finally led judge Rohner, Chad and part of the gallery to a heavy thicket on the back side of the chicken yard. The flushing attempt was in vain. Drum was asked to relocate and as he worked scent, Chad walked up a single from behind the dog, who stopped mannerly to the flight.

JOGGER'S HAPPY JACK (C. Holman) - MICKEY XXVIII (Schreiber): Following a leisurely lunch break this brace was off from behind the barn with both looking good in the big open fields and long hedgerows. At 30, in a treeline south of Ruby's Rail, Mickey pointed, but flushing attempts and the relocation were fruitless. Judge Rohner, who had been providing some entertainment with his displays of horsemanship during the previous few minutes, finally "hit the dust" about the time Mickey moved on. There was a brief delay while Brad Woodruff gave Bob his mount and took Bob's back to the barn. After crossing into the loop east of the primitive camp grounds, both were hard to follow in the heavy cover and Mickey was missing at pickup. Jack, in the meantime, had negotiated the loop but was gone at time. As the party was riding in toward the gravel turnaround, Sally Gentsch called point for Jack. He was buried in a clump of underbrush. When Chad arrived, he flushed a covey in front of the dog.

VANPO'S GYPSY BELLE (Hancock) - HOT AUGUST KNIGHT (C. Holman): This pair never got their act together and Augie The Doggie was retired at 15 with Belle following at 25.

LUKE'S MUSTARD SEED (Hancock) - SLIDE RULE II (C. Holman): Breakaway was from the barricade, heading east with both making brief appearances as the loop into the T-Road was run. Luke had a mild letdown at 25 following an extended cast well out to the right. He came on nicely and at 32, as the group came along the treeline leading to the blacktop crossing, point was called for Sly. As we rode to the dog, Luke was standing in the path backing prettily. Chad flushed birds and the dogs were taken across the road and turned loose. Sly was soon lost and not returned until after time. Luke was moving strongly, and at 40 he pointed in the dry lake bed behind the lagoon. A large covey was flushed with Luke standing nicely. Sent on, he ducked into the brush on the right side of the trail and pointed. Bill made a brief attempt to flush in the heavy underbrush, then claimed a rabbit and moved the dog out. At 55, in a field of foxtail at the bathhouse road corner, he once more established point. Flushing attempts were in vain and he was asked to relocate. He worked the area thoroughly and again pointed. This time Bill flushed a single as time expired.

CRAB ORCHARD JET (Trimble) - COUNTRY COUSIN'S CONTENDER (J. Holman): It was sunny and 45 as this brace broke away. Jet was inconsistent throughout. Jade put down an extremely wide race with heavy scouting the order, but a non-productive at 30 in the path south of Ruby's Rail was all he had to show for his efforts.

DUST DEVIL II (Gibson) - FLATWOOD'S TIGER (C. Holman): After a short coffee break this brace was off from the gravel turnaround road. Both were showing well and at 20, in the autumn olive hedge under the powerline, point was called for Dusty. The flushing attempt and subsequent relocation produced nothing. Dusty was lost at the east end of the lane leading to the T-Road crossing and was not returned to judgment. Tiger continued to range well and at 53 he swung into point in the treeline near the blacktop crossing. The birds that had been there the day before for Mike and Sly could not be put to flight this time, and Tiger took a non-productive. Taken across the road for the remaining time, he moved out towards the spray pond. Point was called about 5 minutes after time and a covey was flushed. However, the judge indicated that no credit was given as he had seen Tiger in motion at time.

RIMARDA'S TRADEMARK (J. Holman) - KAR KAR'S BOLD RULER (Gentsch): TM ran far and wide, covering large amounts of the course, but all his effort was to no avail as he was birdless. Ru never got it all together and at 30, near Ruby's Rail, H.R. put the check cord on him.

DAVE-O BEN (R. Staton) - FRANKLIN COUNTY BANDIT (C. Holman): Breakaway was on the gravel road heading east towards the barricade corner. Both ranged widely with Frankie having somewhat the edge. After making the loop and crossing the T-Road corner, Frankie had a nebulous contact with a quail at 25 in a woods line off to the right. At 30, in a large field of milo, Frankie had a good find on a covey. At 37 all thoughts of adding this title to his record were dashed, as he took a covey out from the edge of the gravel road on the front side of the spray pond. Ben had slowed and at 45 he was returned to the dog wagon.

OAK GROVE ANDREW (Reisner) - FAR OUT BANDIT (J. Holman): The temperature was in the 60's as this brace broke away from the barn. Andy started slowly but gained range as the hour progressed, before taking a wrong turn and being lost to judgment. Bandit was running well and at 20, in a weed field on the back side of the chicken yard, he was rewarded with a covey. He continued to range well, with an extended absence near the primitive campground.

BI-LOW'S ACE IN THE HOLE (Hancock) - JUNKYARD JAY (R. Staton): Breakaway was about halfway down the gravel turnaround road and both engaged in a touch of racing before settling to their task. Ace, while wide, tended to loop. At 20 Bill called Ace in to water him and Jay, being in the vicinity, took advantage of the opportunity with Bill doing the honors for both dogs. At 35, in the loop east of the T-Road, Ace pointed but suffered a loss of style during a futile flushing attempt, and was picked up. Jay continued to range well. At 55 he swung into point on the long treeline leading to the blacktop crossing, and the covey was put to flight.

TRADE (J. Holman) - MAX'S BOZO LIGHTNING STRIKES (K. Staton): Breakaway was down the west side of the spray pond and Trade put a covey to flight almost immediately. Bozo's race was uneventful and he was lost at time.

AUX-ARC'S MARK (K. Staton) - POLTERGEIST LOUIE (Hancock): The overnight frost was gone, the sun was out with the temperature in the mid 40's as Mark and Louie staged their challenge. Both had good races with Mark shortening some near the end, but neither could come up with birds.

BATCH'S BO-NINE ROCKEE (K. Staton) - THE MAGIC MOMENT (J. Holman): This brace has been described above.

PRIDE & JOY'S TAILSPIN (R. Staton) - FAR OUT SCARLETT ANGELINA (C. Holman): This brace kept the excitement high as they went right to work. Angie took the woods on the left while Spinner took the spray pond fenceline, and awa-a-a-y we go. Spinner is an excellent running youngster with a lot of promise who went birdless today. Angie had her usual eye-appealing race, showing nicely through the lagoon area and the bathhouse loop before touring the north end. At 33, in a field of foxtail just south of the primitive campground, her efforts were rewarded with a classy find on a large covey. Sent on, she stopped to the flush of a single. She then worked her way to the front with a series of wide-ranging casts. As time was called she was missing; however, she was returned well within the allotted time.

HAZZARD COUNTY JED (Self) - MARKAR'S JAC'S A DAN D (J. Holman): This powerful running pair quickly had scouts busy as they disappeared into the cover under the powerline, to be seen only intermittently for the remainder of the morning. Jed showed briefly after crossing the gravel road south of the barricade, then was gone again. Jac was still among the missing when the word came from the car gallery that he'd been seen near the blacktop. Bob Weisz rode back to find him in the bathhouse loop and brought him back near the T-Road junction. As we neared the Snead place he was gone again. This time he wasn't returned until well after time and was found by Bob inside the chain link fence around the spray pond.

CUTTY SARK IX (Hancock) - RIMARDA'S GAMBLER (C. Holman): Following lunch and a 5-minute wait at the starting line for the absent Cutty, Rusty ran alone. His first cast was spectacular as he took the hedgerow to the right until he was just a speck. After cutting through to the next hedgerow he failed to show, and Chad rode down the line. Point was called, but as the gallery made the mad dash it was waved off. He continued to make exceptional casts yet he appeared so wound up that his ears were not operating. Chad leashed him at 22.

KENTUCKY TUG (Capstick) - SCATTMAN (C. Johnson): Breakaway was on the west side of the blacktop across from the T-Road. Tug was not responsive and Dave picked him up at 20 in the wood south of Ruby's Rail. Charlie tried his luck at running his new charge, Scat, but after piloting him through the quail woods and the bathhouse loop, he misplaced him in the chicken yard.

BAY ARBOR DOLLY (J. Holman) - LAVENDER 'N LACE (R. Staton): This last brace was released from near the primitive campground. Dolly's compass appeared to be malfunctioning as she was very loopy, and Jim returned her to the wagon at 25. By contrast, Daisy's pattern was forward and she was handling nicely. She had an excellent race but came up empty in the bird department.

HUNTER'S DIARY

By Don Vaught

Foreword: What we will attempt to do in this column is provide information, stories, and tips of general interest for the hunter.

In Michigan, due to the decline of the wild pheasant, I finally broke down and joined a hunt club. I had a choice: continue to hunt state and public access land (leased by the state for hunting) and take my chances on finding grouse and pheasant, or join a hunt club. Last year I spent the entire 20-day Michigan pheasant season hunting public access land. Do you know what it got me? Two roosters out of three, the grand total of all game seen.

This year I joined a hunt club located in Lapeer (the thumb area of Michigan). It was the heartland of the "old time pheasant area" about 30-35 years ago. This club leases working farmland, puts up marked boundaries and shooting preserve signs required by state law and provides marked parking areas. The pheasants they plant are purchased by club members. There are no guides like some places, and no high membership fees ($400-$700) per year. Sounds simple, right? I bet you are thinking, what's the big deal? Bet it's crowded with a lot of strangers? Wrong. This is how it works.

At the present time, the club has approximately 2000 acres leased. The properties are divided into areas ranging from a minimum of approximately 80 acres to one square mile, depending on the natural landmarks, drainage ditches and fencelines. Parking areas are generally set up for 2-3 cars; some are much larger to accomodate bigger parties.

Membership dues are only $50 for one full year. Two birds cost each hunter $35; four cost $65, with a minimum of two birds required. There are special considerations for taking sons or daughters with you. You may buy birds for your children (two @ $35) or pay a $10 hunt fee and they hunt with you for your birds. Children are not required to pay the yearly membership fee if they are minors and live in your residence.

A general area map is provided to each member and each acreage is assigned a "farm" number. You are not allowed to cross boundaries from an assigned farm that you have for the day. And for the best news, we enjoy a full four month season. It starts September 1st and ends on December 31st.

Here's how a typical hunt is arranged and what the hunter gets for a day. We call the club headquarters in Lapeer, give our name, club number, number of birds we want, farm number (if known), date and Visa or Mastercard number. Birds must be paid for in advance. The birds are stocked early on the morning of the hunt, prior to the allowed starting time of 8:00 a.m. Birds are typically planted near the center of the farm to minimize chances of the pheasants leaving before the hunter arrives. There is no limit to the number of hunters who can hunt together; however, all must be members and "buy" two birds apiece. If you don't have a preferred farm or type of terrain, the club president will assign one. The club will call to confirm your reservation and give exact directions to the farm, if it's a new one for you.

When you arrive at your farm, there is a sign-in envelope in a mailbox. Inside you will find a sheet for your name, address and small game backtag number. The sheet acts as a summary of game seen for the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Also in your envelope are dated legbands for the number of birds purchased, a map of the farm showing its boundaries and a signed and dated permission slip. The permission slip lists all the hunters in your party authorized to be on "your" farm for the day. You may hunt to your heart's content, and other game species in season (with proper license) are legal, too. You must be out of the fields by 4:30 p.m.

I have had a great time up there, simply because there are birds to work the Brits on, and yes, I do get excited and miss. For example, I went up to Farm #5 yesterday by myself. Nikki, my 10-year old Brit, was my companion. The Michigan wild pheasant season is in progress - roosters only, two per day. So, I buy two birds, to use the legbands to tag hens only, and if I am lucky can bag an additional two roosters.

From 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. we hunted our farm, putting up five hens, five roosters, one woodcock and three quail. I'm sure you've heard of "buck fever" - how about "pheasant fever?"

Brit: "Big Apple" Bird Dog

By John Cosgrove

I am a New York City resident, and my wife and I have lived in the Big Apple most of our lives. My favorite winter pastime, like many avid sportsmen, is hunting. Since my wife isn't a hunter, I decided to get myself a companion - a dog. As a keen small game hunter, I had always admired the gunners who showed up afield with a good bird dog. I particularly admired the German Shorthaired Pointer, and wished to acquire one someday.

When the time came for me to get a dog, my first stop was the library. Having limited space, my requirements were for a small dog that was intelligent, a good pet and a first class hunter. I read about all of the popular hunting breeds, and although impressed with the beauty and elegance of the larger pointers and setters, my situation required a small dog.

The Beagle was perhaps a good choice, but experience with the breed taught me that if left alone they had a tendency to howl. A howling dog would make me unpopular with the neighbors, and so the Beagle was out. The Cocker Spaniel was out since today they are almost strictly house pets.

I remembered once hunting grouse in upstate New York, observing another hunter with two small orange and white dogs. They impressed me with their eagerness and determination. In addition, they were lively, pleasant in disposition and good looking. My reading in the library disclosed that these dogs were either Brittannys or Welsh Springer Spaniels. I preferred the Brittany since he had short hair, and unlike the spaniels, he pointed game. Although in the United States Brittannys are used primarily on fowl, in Europe where they originated, they also hunt the hare.

As fate would have it, one afternoon I was browsing through the local pet store and there in a cage was a five month old female Brittany. She was thin and lanky with a cut on her head from jumping around in the confined quarters, but she was every bit a Brittany. She shared her cage with a beautiful black and white Springer pup. Although swayed by the appearance of the Springer, I decided to stay with a Brittany. After examining the pup, I told the store manager I would take her. My wife already grieved that there should be a new addition to our family, but this would be a surprise. Along with the dog, my purchase included a collar, leash, food and supplies. I put the leash on the dog and we left the store.

Outside the store for the first time, the Brittany became frightened and confused. She started shaking and would not stop. The dog was a wreck and I remember thinking what a terrible mistake it was to buy her. After a day or so, the dog settled down to her new home and her true disposition appeared. She was calm and reserved, yet affectionate and energetic. I nicknamed her Brit.

I walk her briskly each day, and this way we both get our exercise. She reciprocates with companionship, an excellent watchdog and pet. In the car, she curls up quietly on the back seat.

Stewart Airport Cooperative Hunting Area in Orange County, NY is located about an hour and a half's drive from New York City. I have hunted the area, usually solo, over the years and have bagged my share of ringneck pheasants, woodcock, ruffed grouse and cottontail rabbit. For those who are interested, the area also abounds with gray squirrel. That first season, I took Brit to the cooperative for some upland hunting. We did not get anything, but the dog got some experience in the field.

It was enough of an accomplishment to have the pup stay with me when I took a shot at a running rabbit. I missed the rabbit with my 12 gauge, but Brit saw it and chased. After a short distance she lost the rabbit. Although I only hunt small game a couple of times each season, I take Brit into the fields off-season and work her as often as possible. I have found spots where game is plentiful and it's not uncommon for Brit to flush four or five pheasants and a couple of rabbits within an hour or two. She is not too good on rabbits and does not seem to flush them regularly. If she does flush one, she does not follow its trail too long.

Where Brit does excel is in locating, pointing and/or flushing pheasants. The dog is incredible. If there is a pheasant she will find it. She hunts with endurance and stamina and she is a pleasure to watch in action. Sometimes it's hard to believe that a household pet can be such a fine hunting dog. From the moment she is in the field she is all business. To see her work makes me feel sorry for those hunters who hunt without a dog. If given the choice, I would rather leave my shotgun at home than my dog.

Hunting season for ringnecks opens October 1st, but the first day of the season is always too crowded to get out. About 7000 acres of the Stewart Airport Cooperative Area is available for hunting, and there is a limit on daily permits. Hunters surrender their valid hunting license in order to receive a daily permit. No more than two dogs are allowed to any single hunter or party. No pistols or rifles are allowed, only shotguns. The land comprising the cooperative is mostly active or abandoned farms and second-growth forested land. There are a number of ponds and marshes on the area and some small streams. It is open for small game hunting throughout the regular seasons.

The alarm clock went off at 6:00 a.m. October 2nd, the first day of the hunting season for me. I kissed my wife good morning, got dressed, got Brit into the car and headed for the cooperative. It was 9:00 a.m. when we arrived. I traded in my small game license for a permit at the check station and we were off for a day in the field. The trees and shrubs were beautiful tones of green, yellow, red and orange; the air was brisk. Brit was excited and ready.

I left her in the car a couple of minutes longer while I drew my Remington Model 1100 from its case and loaded it with three rounds of No. 5 field loads. The gun is plugged for three rounds for woodcock. I could bet the game would be lying low after opening day, and that is the way I wanted it because it is the most sporting. Most of the pheasant inhabiting the area have been released by the State. They are grain-fed, plump and good eating. Grouse and woodcock are native to the area, as is the gray squirrel, rabbit, raccoon and waterfowl.

The early October cover was very heavy, and as Brit and I penetrated the second-growth forested land, I spied a gray squirrel making its retreat. I sighted my gun at the squirrel but did not shoot, since I was after birds. Not that the squirrel wasn't a sporting enough target, darting between the trees. This second season with Brit was different because she had matured; I was hunting with a fine bird dog. She does have a tendency to work too far ahead. If the pheasant holds to her point, that is no problem since I can catch up with her. But most of the time the pheasants flush, sometimes out of range, so I use a whistle to keep her closer.

After about 15 minutes of walking through the woods, they broke clear to corn fields. One field was about 80 yards wide and 300 yards long, running east and west. On the northern side there was a clearing of about five yards, and then a hedgerow. Brit led the way, plowing through the corn field out of sight, while I listened for her from the clearing and hunted parallel to her. I could hear her crashing through the corn when suddenly, a pheasant broke. I was ready. Releasing the safety, I swung the gun, aimed and fired, and the ringneck fell. Brit led the way to the fallen rooster; a good clean kill.

We worked the corn fields together for two hours. Excited by pheasant scent, Brit flushed the next one out of gun range. It was another rooster and I marked the spot where he landed. Brit did not see the bird land, so it gave me time to catch up with her and work once again as a team. It wasn't long before she caught the scent again, and the game was afoot. The pheasant had run about 50 yards from the spot I had marked. He flushed, this time in range. I fired twice, but the first shot was sufficient; the bird was down and Brit off to retrieve. It's a comical sight to see a small dog like a Brittany bringing in a large cock pheasant, but what she lacks in size she makes up for in determination.

Next evening for dinner, my wife prepared roasted pheasant. The result was sumptuous and for me this was the real satisfaction of hunting - not to mention the colorful foliage, brisk air, exercise, excitement, and the partnership of a man and a small bird dog named Brit.

DOUBLE PARKED

DOG SIT... PLEASE SIT

Last winter, when the snow was blowing and I was bored to death, I decided to train a dog in obedience. I joined the local obedience club's beginner class and found that I loved it. I completed the beginner class by winning the first place trophy and I am hooked. I plan to compete in AKC trials.

This experience has taught me just how important basic obedience really is. My dogs have always had the obedience necessary to show them on the bench, and a great deal of obedience training is needed for the field. I didn't realize how remiss many people are in training the pet. Every dog should be taught manners.

While I was taking my class, there was a plea for anyone that had a free evening once a week to help with the 4H dog training class. Realizing that my experience in obedience was VERY limited, I offered my services as a conformation instructor. I like to work with kids and I am interested in Junior Handling, so that's how I became a 4H leader.

THE REALITY

I guess I expected a nice orderly beginner class like the one that I had just attended. WRONG. There were five adult leaders there that first night, and about 65 kids showed up with their dogs. I have never seen such chaos in one room in my life. There was every size and shape of dog imaginable. Some had been on a lead before, but most hadn't. There are a few that will be excellent representatives of their breed in the show ring. There is even a Brittany that I bred, that I may or may not claim after a few weeks work. Right now, she ranks high on the "needs lots of work and practice" list.

I can't begin to explain the relief that I felt when the leader explained that all of the kids had to have a few weeks of obedience before they could go into conformation class.

ROLL WITH THE PUNCHES

I found during that first very long hour that a sense of humor is a must when you are working with a group like this. You learn to appreciate what didn't happen. We didn't have anyone bitten or even a hint of a dog fight. Each one of the kids had his or her own little problems with their dog, and not one dog sat on command - for weeks. The girls that have been doing this in previous years assure me that it will all come together in time for the county fair. The kids compete in the county fair and then go on to the state fair.

The hardest part of teaching these kids is to get them to strike a medium in their attitude toward their training. Some have meek little voices that the dog ignores, or they are so authoritative that they could be brutal. It's hard to get kids to train with a happy "up" attitude. Most are long on correction and short on praise, but they are coming along.

We have been in this program for seven weeks now, and it is becoming a rewarding experience. Conformation classes started last week. The respect and rapport that I see building each week between child and dog is amazing. The dog is not "just a dog" to that child now. He is "special," because he represents a great amount of time, energy and effort for that child. The child can see the results and feel great pride in his accomplishment. I was thrilled last week when we lined the dogs up, put them on a sit-stay, and they sat there. Seven short weeks ago, I would have bet against it. They heel part of the time and sit occasionally, but it is great to see the glow of pride on the kids' faces when the dog does do it right.

THE REWARDS

This is such a worthwhile program, it is a joy to be a part of it, and to share a little bit of the rewards the kids feel. I will report on their progress thru this column, and even be honest about the Brittany.

One of the things that the kids do in this program is go to nursing homes and put on obedience demonstrations for the residents. We have four appointments for this month. Most of the residents have grandchildren or even great-grandchildren and love every moment of the kids and their dogs. They don't even care if the performances aren't perfect. The kids are so excited about going, and are so "nervous." I will have to admit that when they are doing their exercises, I may be standing back uttering a little prayer, "dog sit, ...PLEASE sit."

Specialty Shows

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

June 12, 1988

By Maureen Massery

Our specialty show was again held in conjunction with Contra Costa County Kennel Club's all-breed show at Vallejo County Fairgrounds in California. The weather was hot, and so was the competition, with the largest entry ever of 105 Brittanys.

Our sweepstakes entry of 40 fine young dogs was judged by Ms. Tatyana Halter of Fremont, CA, an active show/field/hunting test judge. She commented on the quality of the dogs which made her job tough. Her choice for Best in Sweepstakes was Maxwell's Just A Gigalo Joe owned by Floyd and Marilyn Maxwell, and she chose as Best of Opposite Wolram's Taffy Jordean, owned by Dave and Suzanne Marlow.

Mrs. Barbara Heller of Sarasota, FL judged regular and non-regular classes. There were 17 Champions in the ring for Best of Breed competition, including Group winning and Best in Show dogs. After several cuts, Mrs. Heller awarded Best of Breed to a beautiful dog who is a previous Specialty winner, CH Maxwell's Fetch Catch'em Clark, owned by Henry and Maureen Massery. "Clark" went on to take a Group IV in the prestigious Sporting Group. CH Freeman's Sweet Katie Sue, a smooth moving bitch, was awarded Best of Opposite Sex for proud owners Jim and Kathy Freeman. Winners Dog and Best of Winners was Mingodells Ramblin Rowdy owned by Jenelle Larson. Reserve went to Maxwell's Kokamo True-Nikita, owned by Debbie Inferrera. Winners Bitch was Maxwell's Kokamo Ginger Snap, finishing her CH, also owned by Debbie. Reserve Winners Bitch went to Maxwell's Lost River Tiaga-Lily, owned by the Maxwells.

A delicious pot-luck was enjoyed at lunch-break; many thanks to Sue Wright (Sweepstakes Chairman), Victoria Brown (Show Chairman) and the committee members who helped put it all together. Congratulations to the winners and thanks to everyone who entered. We hope to see you all next year.

FREEMAN'S SWEET KATIE SUE

IOWA
DES MOINES, IA
September 9, 1988

The Iowa Brittany Club held its 10th annual specialty show on Friday, September 9, 1988 in conjunction with the Combined Specialty Clubs of Greater Des Moines.

Mr. Ken Rensink started the evening judging our first ever Sweepstakes. He picked Melridge Two-D Acquaintance as Best in Sweeps and R&P's Rolyart Iowian Girl for Best of Opposite.

We were lucky to have Mr. William Geisenhafer as our breed judge. He had been cancelling out on a number of judging assignments because of recent heart surgery. From a group of 34 Brits, CH Sea Mist's Sequani Show Gun was awarded Best of Breed. Best of Opposite Sex went to CH Belle Jozzi of Chesabrit CD, and Best of Winners to Prince Valiants TZ Gem Dandi. In our Junior Showmanship competition, the happy winner was Nikki Smith.

Come join us next year for four big days of majors and a chance to finish your dog in one weekend.

STARRING YOUR TOP WINNER

CH BARKALARM BENTLEY

(CH Auten's Admiral Bird x CH Barkalarm Cinnamon Toast) Happy finished his championship in December 1986 at barely 12 months of age, taking a Group III on the day he finished.

Since then he has been shown very sparingly while we've waited for him to mature. We chose the Tallahassee KC show on Oct. 23, 1988 for his debut as a grown-up Specials dog. To our delight, he showed his way to a Group I under Elaine Mathis, going over BIS and nationally ranked sporting dogs.

His second weekend out he went BOB at Greater Ocala, judge Roy Ayers, and took a Group IV at Cahaba Valley, judge Houston Clark. His third weekend, he took Group II at Southeast Alabama under judge J.D. Jones and a Group II at Montgomery under judge Clinton Harris.

Judges have commented on his beautiful type, his gorgeous headpiece and expression, his overall balance, and the fact that he makes so much of himself going around the ring. His physical virtues and his outstanding personality make him a very eye-catching dog in a neat 19-1/4 inch package. He is OFA certified, as are his parents, and he is ALWAYS breeder-owner handled. Watch for him in 1989. BARKALARM, Gene and Jeanetta Sharp, 2504 Wexford Road, Albany, GA 31707. (912) 435-0474.

AM/CAN CH P.J.'S TED-DEE BEAR

Am/Can CH P.J.'s Ted-Dee Bear (OFA) has just retired from the show ring to serve as one of the stud dogs for "P.J.'s Skyline Kennels." He stands 20-1/4 inches and has substantial bone and style. He is rich dark orange in color. Ted-Dee (6-4-85) finished his American and Canadian championships within one year; he then sat out a year to begin work on his CD and participate in limited field training. He was specialized by Ellen Cottingham. He accumulated 8 BOB and 17 BOB during his show career, along with several group placements. Ted-Dee will now complete his obedience work and return to the field.

His looks remind one of the old style Brittanys in his background like CH/AFC Sequani's Dana MacDuff and FC Country Cousin Lost River. He is a "wash and wear" dog, very trainable, even-tempered, tough and long-winded endurance and always ready for action in the ring or outside in the weather.

Watch for him in occasional Northwest shows. At stud to approved (OFA) bitches. Shipped semen possible. PJ's Skyline Kennels, J.B. and H.N. Engel, DVM, 2855 NW Skyline Dr., Corvallis, OR 97330. (503) 754-9523.

THE STARS OF THE WEST SHINE BRIGHTLY

JUST RAMBLIN'

By Jay Downs

Style and intensity are the bywords associated with a dog's character around game. Both encompass the attitude the dog takes concerning gamebirds, the primary reason for that individual's existence. The why's and how's of this subject are fairly complex.

A dog pointing game is motionless, intent, high on both ends - frozen in time. Etched in stone, something that humans who covet quality bird dogs demand. Definitely something quite different from a canine who simply stands game. Any aficionado of any specific breed who does not place as his ideal this "class" on game is dooming that breed to mediocrity. No room for debate here. For if sire and dam of the future flag, look around while on the "stand," generally of a relaxed posture - then for sure their get will be the same or less.

Less? Now that's a sad thought to say the least. Yet a large portion of this Brittany gene pool fits that description, as the great bulk of our breed is reared in circumstances needing only members of the sexes to produce pups. Granted, all canines are subject to the same, but when friends of this breed negate the characteristic of style, something is very wrong. Period. No debate here either.

Two things determine this "style." One is characteristics passed from the parents, the genes, and two, the environment - all the world around this dog and all the other creatures in it, primarily we humans. Man presents the control factor in a dog's life, shaping its usefulness to our society. Assuming quality genetics for style, this control we assert over dogs greatly determines pointing attitude. For we're not only dealing with genetics for pointing instinct, intensity, and physical posture, to name a few. There are also a set of complex mental traits to determine self-confidence, mental toughness, sensitivity to touch, intelligence, etc. These characteristics directly influence pointing attitude as YOU apply the control factor! Now think on that one a bit. It begs the question: is the dog simply not enough dog? Or, is the trainer simply not enough trainer?

We'll draw some comparisons to other sporting breeds. First take the Labrador Retriever, speaking of individuals designed for top flight trial competition. Breeding such a dog centers primarily on one character (no matter what the folks over there tell you) - the ability to never quit, ALWAYS the fire to train and compete. An Open Champion is the result of thousands of hours of complex training to retrieve, mark birds, memory, rehearsing each detail to perfection. All the dog has to bring with him is the ability to take this environment. The rest can be man-made, but you can't teach desire.

Example number two: consider the major Open All-Age English Pointer of today and the development of those genetics. An animal tough mentally and physically, specifically shaped this way by breeders caring not what these dogs look like or how they relate to people, but rather ONLY how they meet that precise pattern. A decidedly different type of individual shapes this gene pool to that standard, as compared to those breeding Brittany past and present. Mainly it's just a difference of opinion on what constitutes a dog, or what and why you're involved with them. I believe the more the person loves the game of dogs; competitively speaking, the more absolute the dogs they run become to a few fixed traits. The dog becomes another item in the tools of competitive field trialing, not for the improvement of the breed as a whole. The Brittany All-Age chases this standard, obviously from a distance.

The facts remain. To breed the desire and toughness up in a Brittany does not interest the vast majority of ownership. These owners like the companionship and personality characteristics of the breed, and most often fail to see any merit in the Pointer. The charm of the Brittany has inspired a loyal following, and rightfully so. Class around game is not a priority with this group - the vast majority at least. In the end, a breed directly reflects the interests of its owners.

Don't get me wrong - I'm not saying you HAVE to breed toughness and desire up to maintain style. I am saying if you insist on jerking dogs around on check cords and frying them with collars to break them versus finishing them with patience and intelligence, and most certainly letting them catch these breathing scent bags used for bird work - then toughness and desire will have to be bred up.

You could select for pointing instinct and posture IN BOTH PARENTS and maintain style, for it's done. But invariably when a quality dog is seen around birds, the creature with the whistle around his neck is also of vital importance. As many know, it's just as easy to ruin style as to develop and promote it. The problem is convincing enough people of the importance of style, intensity, class - whatever you wish to call it - and then adhering to that standard.

HEALTH NOTES:

Antifreeze Poisoning By Dr. Doug Carithers DVM

Many pet owners are unaware of the toxicity of antifreeze. The minimum lethal dose is only one teaspoon for two pounds. This means that a small spill on the garage floor is more than enough to kill a puppy. What the warning on the label fails to tell you is the dogs, puppies or adults, love the taste of antifreeze. In fact, if they smell it, they will seek it out to drink it.

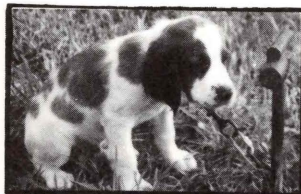

Most all antifreeze is of an ethylene glycol base (Ethylene glycol is also used in de-icer and photographic solutions). After it is ingested, it is broken down in the body to form oxalic acid. Crystals of oxalic acid ultimately cause renal (kidney) tubular blockage, producing acute irreversible kidney failure and death.

If caught early enough, treatment is possible. If you see your dog (or cat) ingest antifreeze, take your pet immediately to your veterinarian; do not wait for clinical signs to appear. Your veterinarian will induce vomiting and take other necessary steps to prevent renal toxicity.

Even with the appearance of clinical signs, treatment can still be possible... Thirty to 60 minutes post-ingestion the dog will be vomiting, have difficulty breathing and possibly convulsing... It is possible to save a dog as late as the early convulsive stage, but the success rate is low.

Simple precautions are mandated when handling antifreeze; proper disposal of old antifreeze, avoid spillage, immediately clean up any spills that might occur, and perform such procedures where pets aren't in danger of exposure.

The Point Is . . . AKC HUNTER TESTS

By Sue & John Hintz

Thanks to all who responded to the first question that was presented two issues ago. We received quite a few pieces of mail. Complaints were pretty much the same across the country, principally on the grounds. Not so much the quality of terrain, but the type of course used was disliked. All the people who responded said they felt a continuous course simulated more natural hunting conditions and therefore would, and does, test the dog's natural ability and training equally well - without the disadvantage of a scent-saturated bird field. There is a lot of controversy on this subject.

Judges - everyone complains about them! No, really. We didn't get a lot of sour grapes about judges. Mainly the complaints involved the qualifications (lack of). There have been stories from both ends of the country of judges not even knowing the rules of the stakes they were covering, and handlers having to inform them of the standards. It is the responsibility of the host clubs to seek out people who are THOROUGHLY familiar with all aspects of the tests they are to judge, coupled with experience in training and handling pointing breeds in the field. This would help eliminate the inconsistency and confusion that is so widespread. Licensing for judges in the future?

The newly published Guidelines For Judges of Pointing Breed Hunting Tests is very explicit on the requirements that are to be met on each level. It's simple: either the dog meets these and qualifies, or it doesn't - very similar to obedience.

Birds and gunners received the least complaints. Those who criticized mentioned that birds don't fly well enough to get good shots and gunners can't bring a bird down. Sounds like simulating true hunting conditions to me . . .

When submitting club reports, please include the breeding on the qualifying Brits, not just their names. Also, do not send individual scores of the dogs as they will not be included. The tests are non-competitive; even the AKC doesn't require or record the scores of qualifying dogs.

Let's have some response to: Should we have a hunter test in conjunction with the Nationals? Send your answer and any test results to:

ANTHRACITE BRITTANY CLUB 10/23/88

By Larry & Terry Hilliard

The fall AKC hunting test of the Anthracite Brittany Club was held on Sunday, October 23, 1988 at the Spruce Hollow Hunting Preserve. There were a total of 70 entries with 69 starters.

Five Master dogs entered with two qualifying. Ten Senior entries yielded three qualifiers, and 55 Junior entries produced 21 qualifiers. One Senior and five Junior dogs finished titles the day of the test. Eighteen Brittany's were entered with three qualifying, all in the Junior division.

We were blessed with beautiful weather and lovely scenery provided by the fall foliage. The test ran well thanks to the devoted club members that were there to assist in any way.

Our first licensed hunting test got underway on Sunday, October 10, 1988, at the Camanche Hills Hunting Preserve, with cool, clear conditions in the morning, but becoming quite warm towards the afternoon. Our respected judges were Marian Sears and Tiger Halter, marshal was club president Dennis Hartmann, and secretary Helen Brown kept control over the mountain of paperwork.

We had several scratches in the Junior stake which made the commencement of the Test a little taxing, but as the stake progressed we all fell into a smooth routine. Unfortunately, Dennis' horse went lame after the Junior was completed, and Denny marshalled the Senior and Master stakes on foot. He did so with much style, and is thinking of writing a unique book on weight loss entitled, "Lose Weight - Marshal a Hunting Test on Foot."

Wick Smith receives an endurance award for walking three consecutive braces in Senior after one brace in Junior, followed by a brace in Master. His efforts were rewarded with qualifying scores for three of his dogs.

The course at times resembled a combat training course for the Marines, as we had to cross a large ditch with stones and high grass in the bottom. Once through this obstacle, the dogs had plenty of good cover to show their "stuff." We had a good assortment of the pointing breeds present, and it was nice to meet new friends. We're looking forward to our next Test in April 1989.

When I got home I counted my empty shotshells, 16 in all. My game totaled two pheasants, one hen and one rooster. We had a great time. Nikki does her job well, but I could not hit the broad side of a barn. I'll share the story of this hunt in a future issue.

If anyone has a story to tell or hunting tips, please send them to me and we will try to put some fun articles together.

I would like to start by wishing to all a Happy New Year, and to share the good news reported by our readers.

I'll start with K IX Rebel Riot CD, owned by Bernie Hicks of Houston, TX, who earned his Canadian CD and a Dog World award for scoring 195 or better on his first three legs toward his title. Congratulations!

Shiloh's Earl of Cadbury, owned by Pennie Peterson of Gilroy, CA, earned his CD and is now working on his field trial training in Southern California this winter. Good Luck!

I missed one Brit in my last column - on May 21, Sara's Copper King Trooper, owned by N. Capetti, earned a 194 at the Allentown, PA Kennel Club.

One more news item arrived in my mail: CH Starline's Pretty Boy Pete CD earned his third leg on June 12, 1988 at the Contra Costa County, CA Kennel Club event. The amazing fact is that Pete was ten years and two months old when he finished!

Two dogs deserve special mention for HIGH IN TRIAL wins. On June 17, Sunrise Silver Dawn, owned by L. Shubitz, scored 198.5 in the Novice B class - the top score of the Scottsbluff, NE Kennel Club. At the LaSalle Brittany Club Specialty on June 18, Chisum's Fire Dancer CDX came from the Open A class with a 194.5 to capture the honors.

St. Lawrence Valley, NY Dog Club held a trial on June 4, and again Sara's Copper King Trooper CD recorded a good score - 195 in Novice B. Congratulations on your CDI! On the same day at Mount Bachelor (OR) KC, Juniper's Chocolate Dolley CDX took a 195 in Open A. She's owned by G & D Nordlund.

Also on the 4th, Samuel Pro Breker, owned by S. Breker, earned a qualifying score in Novice A at the Fargo-Moorhead (ND) KC trial. They held a second trial on June 5, and Samuel earned a second leg.

On June 5, the North Country (NY) KC saw Sara's Copper King Trooper CD place 4th with a 196.5 in Novice B. The Delaware County (PA) KC held a trial that day and Suzabob's Cinnamon Spice, owned by R. Young, earned a qualifying score in Novice B. While at the Obedience Club of Corpus Christi (TX), Kristi's Red Baron, owned by J. Garrison, qualified in Novice A.

Carry On Calamity Jane added another leg at the Bonneville Basin (VT) KC trial on June 10.

June 11, CH RK's Rodeo Star of Be-Line, owned by R & K Wagner, earned a 193.5 in Novice B at the Flagstaff (AZ) KC trial. At the Syracuse (NY) Obedience Training Club, Sara's Copper King Trooper CD did it again with a qualifying score in Novice B. Meanwhile, Charlemagne De Pepin, owned by K. Shattuck, qualified in Novice A at the Milwaukee (WI) DTC.

On June 12, Carry On Calamity Jane carried away a 190.5 in Novice B. By my records, that's three legs - congratulations! The score was earned at the Great Salt Lake (UT) OTC. At the Dog OTC of Rochester (NY), Sara's Copper King Trooper CD placed 4th in Novice B with a 193.5. J. Hermann's Sweet Ginger Leigh placed second in Novice A with a 194 at the Shenandoah Valley (PA) Kennel Club.

Sunrise Silver Dawn placed third in Novice B with a 195.5 at the Rapid City (WY) KC on June 18. T. Paxton's Facers Copper Nuggets CD placed 4th in Open A at the Conewango Valley (NY) KC event. And Do-Wells Doctor Sioux UD, owned by S. Bruemer, took home a 196.5 in Open B and a 193 from Utility at the Decatur (IL) Obedience Training Club. Bryn Mawr (PA) KC saw two Brits earn qualifying scores: Buddy, owned by W. Lehman, and Suzabob's Cinnamon Spice, both in Novice B.

Those are the scores for this issue. I'd like readers to write me about their experiences with obedience and field trial dogs. I would like to compile information on whether these two facets of dog sports can be happily married. So please, let me hear from trainers, handlers and owners of both obedience and field Brits. You don't have to obedience trial to write, just have interest in basic obedience training. If you have good news on your Brit's obedience accomplishments, send me a letter so we can all share it.

Letters to the Editor

In answer to Paul Holowka's letter: You are absolutely right about the rules and regulations of hunting these days. Used to be anyone hunted wherever they pleased and I know of some fellows in town who came to the country and hunted with their guns sticking right out of their cars. I used to worry on opening day when the hunters all shot at noon. My two kids were out there with the rest of them, but asked the farmers for permission to hunt beforehand.

One bully from nearby thought he could shoot at anything whenever he wanted and wherever he wanted. One day the two kids and I were walking around in the woods, Allerton Park, which was just across the road from us. It wasn't even hunting season, and no shooting was allowed in the Park. But this big bully started shooting at us, anyway. We hollered for him to stop, but he didn't, so we hid low down in the grass till the shooting finally stopped.

Another day, this big fellow was shooting in the woods and hit a man in the neck with a bullet. Then the park posted signs and made him stop using the woods as his private hunting grounds.

During hunting season, one fellow shot our neighbor's cow to death. Another time someone got in back of our kennel, shooting in the ditches of our neighbor like mad. I told him to stop and thought he might hit one of the dogs. Instead, suddenly I heard a loud yelp that sounded so pitiful I knew he had shot his own dog.

It takes a lot to stop some people from doing damage to other people's property. There is a right way to do most everything.

Sincerely,
Viola Anderson, formerly of Willow Branch Kennels

As I write this letter, there has been no official write-up about the 1988 National Gun Dog Championship. I would like to acknowledge all who helped to make this event successful. The list includes the Western Michigan and Saginaw Valley Brittany Clubs, and all the wonderful people who left their jobs and family to work hard at making the stake run smoothly and to help make our guests as comfortable as possible.

Thanks to all who travelled so far to enter their dogs; it was a pleasure to see those of you for a second year among the new faces. They are very much appreciated. Without all of you the championship would not be possible.

Thank you Delmar Smith, for travelling the distance and judging our Championship. You are the gentleman of reputation. Even though we finished earlier than expected and our Super Saver ticket would not allow you to leave, you never complained. I hope you enjoyed seeing old friends and sharing fond memories.

Congratulations to the Jessens for a successful return to Michigan to defend their title. Dude is truly a dog to be proud of.

And to the Michigan Brittany Club members who have done their jobs well, you know who you are. To all I failed to mention, many thanks.

Sue Rosick
Michigan Brittany Club

I would like to comment on Jay Downs' article in the October issue. I suggest that it be read and then reread. He has an excellent understanding as to what the Brittany breeders need to do in order to really improve the breed. I would like to repeat a key statement and objective that he mentions, and that all breeders, hunters, and without a doubt, field trialers, need to consider as top priority when competing, and particularly judging, our field trials:

"...and the dog MUST POINT with INTENSITY - MOTIONLESS and STANDING TALL ON GAME. I breed for TAIL STRAIGHT UP, a goal hard to achieve when considering the total animal." [Capital letters are this writer's emphasis, not Jay Downs. Ed.]

I ask, do our dogs meet this essential condition and prerequisite? Just look and observe the dogs in our broke stakes at your next trial. Record the number of dogs that have this, and in fact record what the eventual winners looked like. Could we have conceded this over the past years since we haven't had many show this or faulted it as it should be. I am not saying this without evidence, I see it at every trial.

I have heard numerous times that we can't win against setters or pointers, be it regional trials on planted game or grouse trials on native game. Let me go on record to say I believe that we could if our Brittany's showed this degree of "class" that we must insist on in not only pointer/setter trials, but in our own backyard, the Brittany trials. Pointer and setter people won't place a low tail dog in their own breed, so why would they place one with a short tail?

Let me end saying that without the high tail and the intensity that goes with it we don't and won't have that "class" dog.

Rebel Sadie with Jim John handling. Runner-up was Rimarda's Trademark, owned by Jim and Janet Chase and captained by Jim Holman. Eighteen Brits were entered in the Derby Classic featuring 45 minute heats. Raymond Evan's Tallassee Southern Sky was the winner; he was piloted by Jim Holman. The runner-up was CJ's Royal Flush, owned by Velma and Bill Tiedeman and handled by Jim John. The Open Shooting Dog Classic had one hour heats and 15 entries. The winner was Far Out Scarlett Angelina guided by Chad Holman. She is owned by Jim and Margaret Furla.

May 28-31 were the dates of the Williamson County (TN) Shoot-to-Retrieve stakes at Franklin, TN. The latter stake included 26 starters, and Doug Reid and his Fan's Desert Fox captured the yellow.

Family Tradition, owned by Dena Keith and handled by Larry Allen, won the 12-entry Open Shooting Dog stake of the Southern Rhode Island Trials at Peace Dale, RI, May 28-29.

GSP Club of Michigan engaged May 13-14 as its dates at Ionia, MI. Blaze's Cookie Bandit placed first in the Open All-Age and fourth in the Open Limited Gun Dog. These were back-to-back stakes. He was handled by Ken Rosick and is owned by John Marinelli. Then Cooks Great Bandit went third in the Open Limited All-Age and second in the Amateur Gun Dog. His owner was not recorded in The American Field.

The Chippewa Valley Pointing Dog Association held its trial August 6 at Downsville, WI. Brady Haley with owner Jim Haley handling went one, and Tom Jentlie and his Sherman Creek Rust-Dee accepted the red in the nine-entry Open Shooting Dog stake.

In Memoriam

CAROL BROWN

What made us friends in the long ago when first we met? Well, I think I know... It was a Brittany puppy - better known as Charlie Boy. With the sale of this pup from our yard to theirs, a friendship grew that lasted for many years, and our two families traveled many a field trial mile together. Our three kids and Carol & Harold's four kids hardly knew any different than they had two sets of parents. The common bond, of course, was the love we all shared for our Brittany's.

Today, November 19, 1988, we buried Carol Brown, one of the most intelligent and talented writers I have ever known. Her death was a shock to all who loved her. She had many accomplishments during her lifetime. Brittany fans will remember her best as the brilliant author of "Brits & Britfans" in the American Brittany magazine, to which she contributed articles for the past 15 years.

Those trialers in the Midwest still recognize Carol for her many judging assignments, both on the local and the national level, as she and her husband Harold teamed together to judge Futurities and Classics. Carol's writing skills brought her recognition as the Nationals Reporter for several national championships. No matter the weather, you could count on Carol to follow every brace through with an eagle eye and a positive word for every dog. Her descriptions made everybody love to read her write-ups.

Carol was fun to teach field trialing to. Her prominent upbringing in a prestigious family had reared her to be in the Junior League, serve on community boards and be a matriarch in her family. But once introduced to the outdoors and the Brittany, her love for that life never left her. From her first trial in our camper with wall-to-wall children on the floor to her last judging assignment only last month, her flair for the dramatic remained intact.

Carol was a testimony to field trialing that will not soon be forgotten. Our being friends was part of God's plan. I loved the best that was in Carol, and that is the part that I will remember and for which I will continue to grieve.

OFA Asks Help To Stop Fraud

By E. A. Corley, OFA Project Director

The Dysplasia Control Registry of the OFA was formed with the primary objective of providing individual dog owners with a standardized evaluation of the hip joint status. A spin off from the individual evaluation, listing of dogs receiving OFA numbers, provides breeders with information on large numbers of dogs to enhance the selective breeding process necessary to control hip dysplasia.

Consumers have become aware that purchasing a puppy from a breeder using only normal breeding stock, while not guaranteeing a normal dog, does increase the probability of obtaining a dog with normal hips. Thus, economic advantages of being a responsible breeder are obvious.

The vast majority of breeders and veterinarians are honest and attempt to do their best for the dog. Unfortunately, there are some whose desire for economic gain or personal recognition choose to be dishonest. Some may choose to misrepresent their dogs in a variety of ways, i.e., substitute one dog for another to obtain a normal radiograph, forge OFA certificates, alter OFA certificates to falsely present a better phenotypic rating, advise potential buyers that all of their dogs have OFA clearance when they know otherwise, misrepresent the pedigrees, etc. Pressures of the dog game do not make people dishonest, they choose to be dishonest.

The OFA identified 67 dogs involved in substitution attempts out of 52,000 submissions (0.1%) between 1986 and August, 1988. These dogs represented 22 breeds, with approximately 50% coming from one breed, and involved 41 breeders. The advent of the computer now makes it possible to identify more of the dogs in this category. Other problems, such as forged certificates, require information from outside the OFA that some people are reluctant to provide.

The OFA is not a police organization, but when data or misrepresentation of OFA reports have come to our attention we have made efforts to correct the situation. We have revoked OFA numbers and notified the involved Club. We have denied OFA privileges to a number of breeders. We have provided assistance to Breed Clubs and AKC in prosecution of their members. We have provided assistance to individuals involved in legal cases concerning misrepresentation. We also have provided assistance to the Postal Service in preparation of a criminal charge to be brought against a breeder. These are but a few examples of our actions on issues that concern all of us.

The entire canine fancy is based on the honor system; however, we can only control what we do, not what others may choose to do. Dishonest people have always been among us, but we can't allow them to go unchallenged. A dishonest person can do much harm to all of us; therefore, it behooves each of us to assume the responsibility for correcting the situation. It is unrealistic to assume that your Club, AKC, or OFA will be able to do the job for you. Your help is needed to prevent damage to our dogs and damage to the innocent people that purchase dogs.

The following are some suggestions to assist in protecting yourself, your breeding program, and the innocent, trusting person new to the dog game.

1) Do your homework before purchase or breeding of any dog. Do not accept information from anyone at face value.

2) Never take a person's word or a photocopy copy of an OFA certificate as a true representation of the hip status. Verify the information by calling the OFA office (314-442-0418 - provide us with the registration number or OFA number) or study the OFA listings provided to the affiliated Breed Club for publication.

3) Do not allow anyone to have access to your dog for purpose of radiography without you personally accompanying the dog to the veterinarian.

4) Prior to purchase of an adult dog, particularly from overseas, obtain a radiograph of the hips and elbows. After you have the dog in your possession, re-radiograph the dog and have the two studies compared by an expert before completing the payment.

5) Obtain, in writing, a specific, concise contract outlining the conditions of sale and expectations that are satisfactory to both buyer and seller.

6) Be willing to report and provide documentation of a dishonest act to the appropriate organization, Breed Club, AKC, OFA, etc.

HEALTH NOTES:

Fungal Pneumonia

Last week a three-year old black Lab was presented to the Foster-Smith Animal Hospital with a complaint of a persistent deep cough, weight loss, depression and intermittent fever. The Lab had been treated by another veterinarian for two weeks for a suspected severe case of kennel cough.

The previous veterinarian had used standard therapy: antibiotics and antitussive medication to control the cough. The problem was that the dog got worse, very much worse. By the time we examined the dog it was in final stages of blastomycosis, a fungal disease. Without proper treatment the dog would have died within one week.

What is fungal pneumonia? Infections in dogs (or humans) are usually caused by either a virus or bacteria. Some infections are caused by yeast or fungus (athlete's foot), but these latter are considered an annoyance at most, never life-threatening.

Occasionally in dogs a fungus may get inside the body and cause a very serious systemic infection. Undiagnosed, the fungal infection is usually fatal.

Though there are several others, the fungal diseases most frequently diagnosed in the canine are blastomycosis, histoplasmosis and coccidioidomycosis. Fungal organisms live in the soil and dogs contract them by inhalation of infective spores. They are not thought to be transmittable from one dog to another or from a dog to its owner.

Clinical signs: persistent cough, weight loss, depression, fever, shortness of breath. Sometimes other parts of the body may be affected. If so, one may see eye problems, skin sores or a lameness. Dogs with fungal infections are nonresponsive to routine antibiotics!

A definitive diagnosis requires a chest x-ray to see typical fungal lesions or visualization of the offending organism from a draining sore or from a chest tap. In order to diagnose a fungal infection, the vet almost always has to be looking for it.

Treatment for fungal infections is expensive and complicated, but usually successful. If your dog has a non-responsive infection anywhere, but ESPECIALLY IN THE LUNGS, mention the possibility of a fungus to your vet.

Rosco's Resolution:

AS I LOOK BACK ON THE YEAR,
LIFE WAS SWEET IN '88.
THE DOGS RAN LIKE RABBITS,
AND KRAIG HUSTLED GREAT.

IN THE QUAIL CLASSIC
"ROCKEE" TOOK THE #2 SPOT.
HE AND KRAIG
MAKE A TEAM THAT'S HOT!

AS CENTRAL FUTURITY DUAL,
"HANK" MADE ME PROUD.
"ANNIE" PLACED, TOO,
SO I BRAGGED REAL LOUD.

THERE WERE PUPPIES & DERBYS
WHO WON MANY PLACES.
IT MADE ME FEEL GOOD
TO PUT SMILES ON OWNERS' FACES.

GAINING POINTS AND TITLES,
THE ADULTS KICKED SOME DUST.
THEY WON FOR THEIR OWNERS
AS WELL AS FOR US.

WHEN "SMOKE" MADE HALL OF FAME
I GOT A TEAR IN MY EYE.
SAME AS WHEN I TURNED 50 -
ENOUGH TO MAKE ANYONE CRY!

AND SO I RESOLVE
FOR THE YEAR 1989,
TO KEEP UP THE TRADITION
THAT'S SERVED ME SO FINE:

TO TRAIN TO THE LIMIT
SO THE DOGS WILL RUN WELL;
TO BE ALWAYS FAIR AND FRIENDLY; AND TO GIVE THE COMPETITION HELL!

EAST COAST

SOUTHERN NEW ENGLAND JOHN FLAHERTY F.T. AREA EAST WINDSOR, CT

October 7-9, 1988

By Leslie Fleury

SNEBC had an October trial and it was a grand event.
To Flaherty field on Trombley Road horses, dogs and people went.

The drawing saw 92 entrants that hungered for the blue
Those judges had to sort it out only the finest of dogs would do!

Now fall should be a lovely time
To visit quaint New England
The leaves are turning gold and red
This gets the old blood tingling!

So, we gave the people 2 nice days of sun and fallish weather
But Saturday was nasty indeed
And dampened every quail feather.

Our happy hour was a time to chat
And warmly sit by the fire
Good food, drink and little chats
Helped spirits to soar higher.

We thank the folks that helped us
To make our trial great
The handlers, spectators and club members too
Determined our positive fate !!!!!

NORTH JERSEY October 15-16, 1988

By Thomas Tighe

The North Jersey Brittany Club Trial Held October 14th and 15th lucked out with excellent weather, and with the aid of an experienced field trial committee, we had a very pleasant trial.

The club received top notch help from Marie Mennella and Madeline McCabe handling the early breakfasts and long lunches in the kitchen. Joan Warshefski and Jean Bovich put together an old fashion happy hour that had everyone raving about the food. The donation of food from everyone for the happy hour were greatly appreciated.

Our Judges rendered excellent judicial reviews. Debbie Zaktansky not only won the Open All-Age and the Harry Warshefski Memorial Trophy, but finished "Roc" as a field champion as well. Judges Ken Mercer and Nils Sanborne called the Amateur Gun Dog an excellent stake with many fine dogs, making for a difficult, but pleasant task.

Bill Bovich repeated his springtime performance with Bee Jay DeBritt by winning the Best Members Trophy.

Our thanks to all who participated and helped with the trial - especially the road guards who worked so diligently.

—EAST CENTRAL—

NIAGARA FRONTIER

September 17-18, 1988

There were great expectations for the N.F.B.C. trial with anticipation of a near capacity crowd. Due to conditions beyond our control, the entry for this trial was the smallest ever. Despite this adversity, the outstanding performances showed in the quality condition of the grounds and the "renovated" outhouse! I'm still not sure in what order they finished; however, based on the comments, they were only whiskers apart. For those of you who usually "rise up" to the occasion at our trial I can only add that you can vote at our Spring trial for one, but, will have to wait til Fall for the other. A special thanks to club members Jim Skorik and Dr. Ron Harling (the grounds crew) who supplied trailer and tractor respectively and to Dr. Jim who renovated the club outhouse.

The weather Saturday morning delayed the 7:00 a.m. kick-off for about an hour and a half due to some unexpected light precipitation. The remainder of the trial was run in mostly dry conditions.

I wish I could say that "although the quantity was small, the quality was high", but in many stakes it just was not the case. There were, however, some fine performances. Those that could have won or placed in larger stakes were Rimarda's Rebel Jac, winner of the OAA and second in the AAA, Joyful Jenny, winner of both Gun Dog Stakes, and Allmac's Jaba the Hunter. There were a handful of others that were worthy of placements but errored and took themselves out of contention. Those that placed did so based on at least reasonable stake standards.

OHIO

KILLDEER PLAINS W.A.

October 1-2, 1988

The Ohio Brittany Club welcomed the third generation of Holmans to their field trial grounds at Killdeer Plains Wildlife Area on October 1st and 2nd. Chad came with Bob Ice and a fine string of dogs, and when all was said and done, the trip was quite successful for him.

Rimarda's Gambler won the Open All-Age with a wide, forward run and a covey find - one of the largest ever seen at Killdeer Plains. Close behind was Amigo, who also had a big run and fine birdwork.

It's always pleasant when an Amateur stake is won by an amateur who has worked hard with his own dog. When Terry Ankrom is asked how his dog did and he answers "excellent," you may as well scratch your dog. Terry is not "kennel blind" and he was surely right this time. His dog won first place and by so doing, finished his Amateur title. The judges said that Pax's style and intensity on his birdwork was perfection, after a blazing backcourse that hardly left an area unhunted. Cindy Meaney's Little Jewlie had an excellent backcourse with a find and was rewarded with another find in the birdfield to nail down second.

The Puppy stake was won by Jim and Janet Chase's Steel Magnolia and second went to Delmer McCallister's Buddy. The judges said that ground speed and maturity were the difference between first and second.

The Open Gun Dog was won by Sweet Seasons Keep 'N Time, owned by Marge Kuszak and ably handled by our other professional, Frieda St. John. After four braces without birdwork because of the terrible scenting conditions, Time had three finds, handled beautifully at good range and hunted with style and class. Dan Tooker's Breeze also had an excellent run, and what the judges described as the class find of the day.

Chad took first and second in the Derby with The County Lawyer, owned by Ed Hartt, and Tim Tam who is owned by Larry Ice. Both dogs had good runs and fine derby birdwork.

The Amateur All-Age finished up the long weekend, but the two dogs with the big runs went birdless, and so first and second place dogs were called back to display their manners, which Britt and Jenny did to judges' satisfaction.

It was a long, hard two days for our judges, some of whom had driven many hours to endure such pain. We think that our club's hospitality and the many good dogs that they watched helped to ease their agony. We sincerely thank them and also thank the hard-working club members who always seem to pull together to make a successful trial. We hope to welcome you all back in the spring.

BRETON DE FAR

IOWA HUNTER CREEK RANCH HUMESTON, IA October 1-2, 1988

The Iowa Brittany Club held its Fall Field Trial at the Tony Funk Ranch at Humeston, Iowa for the second time this year.

A total of 132 entries were recorded with 36 All-Age, qualifying two dogs for the National Championship. Our Open Gun Dog had 28 top quality dogs; Amateur Gun Dog had 24 entries - 52 Gun Dogs in all. To my knowledge, that's one of the largest gatherings of Gun Dogs in one place at one time in a long while.

We would like to give our thanks to the judges and all who helped us. A special thanks to Richard Brewington and Tony Funk, their work on the grounds was excellent. The creek crossings were all filled and hazard free. Extensive mowing made many edges and good visibility.

Bird work was plentiful as few dogs were birdless; many wild birds were encountered.

GREATER ST LOUIS WHETSTONE CREEK WILLIAMSBURG, MO October 22-23, 1988

By Gary Holland

The St. Louis trial had a smaller than usual entry, but that did not affect the enthusiasm of the participants. Everyone had a good time and the judges' placements were well received.

After Saturday's running, a special roast of Ray Trimble was held during our banquet. Ray was honored as a lifetime member of the Greater St. Louis Brittany Club for his past service and support. A lot of fun was had as Ray's friends contributed letters of fond memories and interesting experiences from the past.

Sunday's running ended with the Roy Quick Memorial trophy awarded to the winner of the Amateur All-Age. This year it was St. Louis' own Tim Self and Hazzard County Jed. At the end of another trial, I wish to thank all the participants and club members (especially Linda Green) for the effort put forth to make this trial a success.

The weather again cooperated to help us put on an outstanding trial. Even with the confusion over Sunday's running it came off extremely well. The club would like to extend a special thanks to all our out-of-town guests and the pros Bob and Jim John, Marc Appleton, Lyle and Marge Johnson and Tim Hidalgo, who helped to make this trial a resounding success. We had good competition and a large entry.

Since this is my last trial as chairman for, hopefully, several years, I would like to thank all those club members who have been so helpful in the past year, particularly Charley and Alice Janssen, who do at least half of the work without being asked and more if asked to, and Jo Hendricks who seems to enjoy long hours in the saddle.

As Field Trial Chairman, I would like to thank every person who attended and made our fall trial a success. In spite of the heat, the dogs did a fine job of showing us what this sport is all about.

I extend my thanks to the two pros who attended, Leon Milligan and Bunny Brown. I would especially like to thank Leon's horse for providing the entertainment of the day and Ninon Woodall's dog for giving me swimming lessons.

Judges, thank you for doing your usual fine job; I hope my wife's chicken and potato salad didn't poison you. We handlers got to enjoy the hamburgers proved by Rob & Linda Green.

Nancy Sawyer, It was good to see you and Buzz attend. Now you know why our club is famous for its Happy Hour, which is provided by all the fine ladies of the club.

Again, I would like to thank each and all; I'll see you next Spring.

WEST TEXAS
WINN RANCH
COLORADO CITY, TX
October 15-17, 1988

By Cliff Sharer

October in West Texas brings the first cool mornings of the approaching winter, while the days can warm up to levels reminiscent of summertime. Mid-day temperatures approached 90 degrees, but altogether the weather was most agreeable. Apparently, people are beginning to discover this trial as we had over 100 dogs entered despite the absence of Texas pro Vic Carrington and his string of dogs. It is evident that our efforts to put on the type of trial to attract large entries are being rewarded, and we will be able to make the annual payment on our "world class" dog wagon. We heard a rumor that a club that shall remain nameless (LONE STAR) is waiting for us to default on the loan.

Professional handlers accounted for the majority of entries. Dan and Trudy Richmond, Loyd Budd, Dave and Fay Walker, Marc Appleton, and Texans Allison "Bunny" Brown and Leon Milligan were here competing with a group of amateurs that gave them a run for their money. Amateurs dominated the Open Gun Dog event, taking all four placements. The "Bandits from the North," David and Joyce Lincoln, again managed to take home two first placements, winning the Open Gun Dog and Derby with Wild Hill

Billy and Ted's Edition. Both dogs were sired by FC Birch Hill's Teddy, who, regrettably, died before he had a chance to prove himself as a sire.

Marc Appleton won the Puppy event with Redfoots Hey Mikey and Loyd Budd took the Open All-Age with Brewington's Brinie. Bob Lanham of Emmett, Idaho, won the Amateur All Age with Ranging Radar Rock. We had birds on hand for callbacks, but all events had more than enough wild bird contact to suffice. Most dogs had finds and most of them were clean, pointing out the quality of the competition as well as the quality of the grounds. If you have read this far, you must be interested - come on out and join us this Spring.

SOUTHERN KANSAS WILLIAM OLIVER RANCH EUREKA, KS

October 21-23, 1988

By Marge Johnson

Southern Kansas Brittany Club held its fall Trial October 21-23 at the beautiful Bill Oliver Ranch near Eureka, Kansas. The weather was ideal for dog-running. The ponds and creeks were dry. It was a first for us, water had to be hauled in for the horses.

In the Limited All-Age on Friday, we used the whole Ranch, consisting of six courses on 2800 acres. Three of the four placed dogs had wild birds. First was Kansas Kid with a outstanding race and a wild covey right up front. The Open All-Age was on excellent stake, with the Judges announcing that they had eight dogs that could have won 1st place. 90% of the dogs had bird work. Minnehaha's Tammy took the blue with three well-handled finds.

The Amateur All-Age was won by Pedro in the last brace with a big race and an outstanding find. The Puppy and Derby were won by Jimmy John in good fashion.

WEST COAST

WHID ISLE

SCATTER CREEK #1

ROCHESTER, WA

August 27-28, 1988

The Brittany fall field trial season in the great Northwest was kicked off the last weekend of August. Many thanks to the judges, participants and helpers who helped to make this another successful trial for the Whid Isle Brittany Club.

The extremely hot weather took its toll on the people. The owners and trainers had obviously been doing their jobs as the dogs seemed to handle the weather far better than the humans they own.

Gene and Nan Pullen's DC Dogwood's Ruff-Shod O'Duke was a popular decision for first place in the Open All Age. Puppy points were taken back to Mobile, Alabama by James and Betty Doherty's Momentary Brilliance. Welcome to the Northwest, James & Betty! (And you thought you would escape the heat?) DC Lobo's Cotton Candy took home the blue for owners Lou & Bob Lanham with a quality performance in the Amateur All-Age.

Chick's Master of Ceremonies took the Derby points for the Briscoe/-Little/O'Boyle syndicate. Karl & Carol Pochardt-Johnson's CH Jubilee's Ruff-Shod Stratus was carried from the first brace of the Open Gun Dog to take home the win.

Again, thanks to all for the support, help and encouragement. See you in the Spring.

BOYCE CORRAL

MADRAS, OR

September 3-4, 1988

The Oregon Brittany Club held its fall trial on September 3-4, 1988 at Boyce Corral on the Crooked River National Grasslands south of Madras, Oregon. A total of 76 entries were run in six separate stakes.

The weather was hot, dry, and dusty. Special precautions were required due to the extreme fire danger. Our thanks goes to area Forest Service personnel who worked with the club to allow running of the trial.

As in the past, Paul Danner, long time club member, prepared an excellent Barbeque banquet on the grounds. Lunches were also great. Thanks are in order for Paul along with Gene Pullen, trial Chairman, our judges, and other club members who worked together to make the trial run smoothly.

Congratulations to Peggi and Mike Rice on their new Field Champion, Hotter Than A Pistol Pete, who finished at this trial. Owner trained and handled, and as Mike said, without a pair of cowboy boots.

CALIFORNIA
BUTTON WILLOW AREA
KERN COUNTY, CA

October 8-9, 1988

Our trial was held on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) property near Buttonwillow, California. This is gently rolling, open desert terrain. The kangaroo rats and the bottle-nosed leopard lizards call this home. They are a protected species, and BLM was concerned that a horse or dog might step on a burrow and exterminate a colony. Ed Dixon, our field trial chairman, negotiated at great length with the BLM to get usage permission. Five days before the breakaway, the trial was almost cancelled. Ed kept his cool and the trial proceeded. He and Linda really deserved an award.

Anyone willing to donate a stuffed kangaroo rat to add to Ed's extensive collection of big game heads?

During the running of the Amateur Gun Dog stake, Bill Leffingwell's red setter pointed a bush, took a sniff, and went on. Bill rode over to check the situation out and found $15.00 under the bush. He decided that it must be lucky money, and bought 18 tickets for the club raffle with the cash. No luck! There wasn't a single winner in the batch.

We were pleased to see a number of new members and visitors riding the gallery horses and learning about field trialing.

Saturday evening was warm and beautiful for the happy hour hosted by the Keatings in honor of Dual Champion Chip of Gold II. A great pot luck dinner and gab fest topped off a good day.

All our Judges seemed pleased with our dogs' work and awarded the following placements:

Editorial Comment

I'd like to learn to do brain surgery on dogs. Not complete transplants, understand, just a little constructive cutting and pasting. For it seems to be a Murphy's Law that the wrong brain is always in the right dog's body.

Take, for example, the two dogs I'm training now for Open obedience. One hates the broad jump exercise so much that he hides inside the kennel building when I get the jumps out. He can jump any other kind of jump happily and with ease, but the broad jump just murders him. The second dog despises retrieving the dumbbell, an exercise she believes is "for dumbbells." You can probably guess before I tell you that the broad-jump-hater retrieves like he's shot out of a gun, and the dumbbell-hater would jump all day for the sheer joy of it. If I could splice those two brains together into one body I'd have an OTCH for sure. (The leftover body would be suitable as a couch cushion, a vocation to which both dogs currently aspire.)

GONE TO THE DOGS

By Vicky Stever

It's not only for obedience I'd perform brain surgery. One dog is a showing fool: baits, gaits, stacks like a dream - the ultimate show attitude. But, of course, that one's not the BEST one. The really excellent specimen goes around the ring looking like a close friend just died, or at best, like she wishes she could just go out for pizza.

The show-prospect puppy is the one so reckless that it breaks off half its teeth and dislocates its leg, while the pet-quality pup goes through life calmly with full dentition and limbs intact. The bird dog with the best nose has a head like cement and a case of selective deafness you wouldn't believe. The easy-handler who works like he reads your mind will never have half the nose.

It's enough to make a dog owner crazy, but a little brain surgery could probably fix that, too.
